Service Update
The network service formerly known as "SmartBoard" has had it's name changed to "Widgets".
e2Campus/Amerilert customers using this feature will notice that the service's name has changed.
There is no need to make changes to any existing configurations. Any/all previous SmartBoard code you may have placed on your websites will still function normally.
More information on this minor update is provided in the forums at e2Campus.org or contact support with any questions.
